A reminder that Johns Hopkins Security strives to keep students, faculty, staff, patients, visitors and the greater community safe and informed about security incidents on or near campus. We work closely with the Baltimore Police Department and send security advisory emails as soon as we become aware of an incident that may impact safety. Recently, we learned about a concerning rumor circulating alleging an assault occurred in one of the Johns Hopkins Hospital garages. Neither Johns Hopkins Security nor the Baltimore Police Department have any knowledge of an incident of this type occurring recently on the hospital grounds. If you are aware of any information in reference to such an incident, please contact Johns Hopkins Security at 410-955-5585. As always, we encourage you to maintain awareness of your surroundings, report any suspicious activity to security, and do not hesitate to contact our office with any questions or concerns.
